3. What kind of visa should I get? How do I obtain it and what do I need to know for the application?

You need a Tourist visa for attending this course. You could obtain it from your local consulate or a travel agent. You could find your local consulate's website through google by typing in "Consulate General of the People's Republic of China in xxxxx" for example. As all the Chinese consulates state on their websites that "All regulations and costs are subject to change without notice" so there might be some new rules came out without notice, however, in general at the moment, for obtaining a Tourist visa you will need following documents prepared:

- 1) Visa application form
- 2) One recently taken 2X2 inch photo showing entire face and without a hat on. Please affix the photo to the application form.

- 3) Original passport with at least 2 blank visa pages and valid for at least 6 months beyond the date of application.
- 4) Former Chinese visa records (if any, together with their copies).
- 5) visa fee, depends on your nationality
- 6) our passport is valid for at least 6 month after arrival date.
- 7) a hotel reservation letter might be required. However, it depends on your nationality. If it's required, please email us at Hangzhou-shanghai@teflife.com, so we can get it prepared and send it to you via email. If it requires contact info in China, you may use our school's info on the webpage.
- 8) If you would like to stay in China after the course, you may like to apply for a 60-day or 90-day visa, possibly with double entry or multiple entry.

4. How many students on average are in the program?

Small groups of 6 -- 10 is the usual size however the number may go up in summer. Most of the participants are American, British, Canadian or Australian, although we do accept non-native speakers of English who have a high proficiency in the language.

5. What are the teaching practice students and classes like?

We offer English classes for Chinese students who are interested in improving their English language abilities. Trainees will be scheduled for observed teaching practice on or off site depending on students' circumstances. Chinese students are usually very well behaved in the classroom. They're interested and excited about learning English with a foreigner. Class sizes range from 10 to 25. Trainees will be teaching lessons of 30 to 50 minutes according to student's timetable.

6. What is the program accommodation like, when can I check in?

All rooms are standard 3-star hotel rooms, located on the 3rd or 4th floor of the building, while our classroom and office are on the 2nd floor, and the GLV cafeteria is on the ground floor. Each room consists of one or two beds, TV, AC, chair, closet and a bathroom with western toilet. For July and August courses, only a limited number of single rooms are available, if you 'd like to get a single room please book early. If you sign up late for these two courses, there might be only shared rooms available. However, please check with us once you sign up. In other seasons (from Sep to Jun), single rooms are always available. Please note that couples, or boyfriends and girlfriends who are taking the same course together are given the option for shared accommodation at all times. Laundry facilities are provided per floor. There is a shared fridge on the dorm floor.

Check in time: 3pm to 5pm on Sunday prior to the starting of the course. Dinner is available at GLV cafeteria from 5pm to 6pm. Please email us to confirm your arrival time, so there will be someone at the school expecting you and helping you check in.

Check out: Participants check out the room by 3 PM on the last Friday of the course.

7. Where do I eat on and off campus?

You may partake of meals at our host school in Hangzhou free of charge in exchange for attending their English Corner once a week, usually on Saturday mornings on the campus, and mingling with the students and speaking English with them when you are in the GLV cafeteria. The timing for the English Corner will be intimated to you during the Orientation Session. If you are unable to fulfil this requirement, meals are charged @ 7 Yuan per meal.

You should not chat with native English speakers and ignore Chinese students at your table. Mingling with the students gives them more contact with westerners, and allows you to learn more about Chinese speakers and the Chinese culture. Please note that they maintain a strict English-only speaking environment. (FYI: food in GLV varies and is clean with no MSG, including variety of Chinese food and some western food . 3 meals from Monday to Friday, lunch and dinner on Saturday and Sunday. Cooking on your own on campus may not be feasible, as you will be staying in a hotel room.

8. How much money should I bring with me for the course to pay for living expenses?

During the four-week course you should have about $350 - $700 USD to cover general living expenses, such as food if you don't like to have meals in GLV and transportation, depending on your spending habits. Currency exchange can be easily done at any local bank. You are on your own on the weekends and will be informed, if there are any activities sponsored by GLV. Trainees can attend these activities for free.

9. Directions to get to TEFL International Hangzhou:

- 1). If you fly to Pudong International Airport, Shanghai:
 - A) Go to Terminal 1, walk out Gate 15, cross the road and go to the 2nd floor, there is a ticket office selling tickets for the Wulinmen Minhang Building in Hangzhou, (杭州武林门民航大厦 in Chinese). The bus times are AM, 8:40, 10:10, 11:40. PM, 1:10, 2:40, 4:10, 5:50. The trip takes about 3hrs and costs 85RMB (about $ 13 US). (Please note that if you arrive at Pudong after 5 PM, it might be too late to take this bus and you will need to use option B . Once you get off the bus in Hangzhou then take a taxi to our school from there. That costs about another 60RMB ($9 US).
 - B) You may take a shuttle bus (bus line # 7) from in front of the main terminal to Shanghai South Train Station from Pudong Airport, the bus leaves every 30 mins and costs 20 RMB ($3 US). Then take a train to Hangzhou South Train Station (Hangzhou Nan Zhan, 杭州南站 in Chinese), the cost is about 65-70 RMB ($10 US) for the train ticket. There are more than 20 trains to Hangzhou Southern Train Station per day. Then take a taxi to GLV school for 30 RMB (about $4 US)

2). If you fly to Hangzhou International Airport, you may take an airport shuttle bus to Xiaoshan district, but get off at the Xiaoshan Government stop (Xiaoshan Zhengfu, 萧山政府 in Chinese), it costs 15 RMB($2.5 US) and then taxi to our school for 20 RMB ($3 US).

3). If you take a train from another city in China, get a ticket to Hangzhou Southern Train Station (Hangzhou Nanzhan, 杭州南站 in Chinese), as it is closer to our school, then a taxi to GLV for 30 RMB ($4 US). However, if you end up at the main Hangzhou Train Station, it will cost about 50-60 RMB by taxi to get to our school.

Please note that there is a special ticket booking counter at Shanghai South Railway Station for Foreigners with an English- speaking attendant. It is very easy to purchase your ticket and get directions for the gate number that your train is leaving from.

10. What do I need to take for this 4-week TEFL course?

Please know that you MUST have your passport with you for registration with us and our host school on the Sunday of your arrival.

Bring your laptop for lesson preparation, a watch or cell phone to time yourself when teaching and a MP3/4/iPod or any other device to record a 10-15-minute audio for one student when teaching one of the one-on-one sessions. You will also need a flash drive (USB disk) to have materials printed for your lessons.

As part of the course requirements you will need to prepare materials. Stationary items like coloured felt-tipped pens etc would be useful. These are easily available locally.

Enough sets of clothes. For men: Long dress pants, short- or long-sleeved button shirts with collar, a tie for teaching practice. Close-toed shoes and dark socks. Long hair must be tied back neatly. For women: dresses or skirts, blouses that cover the shoulders, tailored business trousers with appropriate tops. No low-cut necklines or spaghetti straps. No mini-skirts, see-through fabrics or bare midriffs. Makeup and hairstyles must be moderate. Please note that Jeans, shorts and flip-flops are NOT allowed during the teaching Practice time, which you will be informed.

11. What do I need to know about working in China? What do I need to know about Chinese working visa?

Finding employment is only difficult if you wait until the last day of the course to begin looking. Foreign English teachers are always in great demand at various institutions and schools around China.

We recommend you to locate teaching job opportunities and vacancies for future employment before or as soon as you start your course. You may set up interviews when you're in your home country and visit your interested schools or other organizations while completing the course. During the 4-week training, there is a class of 1 hr and half scheduled on the course to give you more information about ESL jobs and school information in China but you are solely responsible for preparing your own resume and setting up interviews to apply for a teaching position.

Most Chinese schools assist you to apply for a working visa. Some will pay for you to do a health check in order to apply for your working visa.

If you are planning on seeking work in China, please bring along your original diploma and transcripts from University, College or Technical School. Although a university degree is not an absolute MUST for an English speaker to work in some organizations in some cities in China, any kind of documentation regarding your educational background or work experience will be useful, especially if you want to work in a decent institute. A TEFL certificate alone enables your future employer to get you a legal work visa in less developed areas (eg: relatively small cities). In cities like Shanghai, Beijing and Shenzhen, you must have both Bachelor's degree and TEFL certificate for your future employer to get you a legal work visa. Job prospects throughout China and Asia are very good and available for professionals of all nationalities though native speakers between 22 and 60 years old with equal qualifications are preferred.

12. What is the average salary like in China?

The average salary's in China range greatly depending on different cities, local cost of living and how much you want to work. The average salary range from 4,000-15,000 RMB per month. However we have had graduates make as much 20,000 RMB per month. This varies depending on the type of schools, training institutions or company you work for and whether you work full-time or part-time.

13. Do most Chinese schools provide accommodations for their foreign English teachers?

It depends on different schools. Some provide fully furnished apartment some give you an allowance every month if you choose not to take the provided accommodation.
